invite you

to an event will inform listeners about the efforts of the interns from Syracuse University this semester. The project aimed to involve all young people that live or visit Florence, to be engaged in the project "Firenze perBene - Florence the Right Way." It also hoped to raise awareness about what it means to be part of a UNESCO World Heritage Site. A variety of tasks including social media upkeep, photographing the city and upgrading and revising existing products to make them more friendly for young people, were the focus of the intern team.
